RIDGEWOOD, N.Y. (February 1, 2019) – Ridgewood Savings Bank, the largest mutual savings bank in New York State, celebrated its one-year anniversary at its Plainview branch on Thursday, January 31, 2019.

As part of the festivities, customers were welcomed to the branch with giveaways and refreshments – and a welcome respite from the cold.

When Ridgewood opened its Plainview branch last year, it marked its ninth location in Long Island (Nassau or Suffolk county) and its 35th throughout the New York metro area. The bank also has branches in Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan, Bronx, Yonkers and Westchester County. The Plainview branch is located at 1125 Old Country Road.

“When we opened our Plainview branch, we knew it was a community where our values were aligned: We strive to deliver the highest level of services while connecting with the people who live and conduct business here,” said Leonard Stekol, Chairman, President and CEO of Ridgewood Savings Bank. “While other banks in the region close and consolidate, we remain committed to the residents, small businesses and communities we serve. Plainview is a great example of what Ridgewood stands for, providing the modern amenities of a retail branch while remaining true to the Bank’s long-standing values and commitment to community”
